

GIRL IS HAILED AS NEW JOAN OF ARC

Young Italian Peasant Beauty
Leads Bersaglieri.

KING VICTOR DECORATES HER

Maria Abbriani Guides Soldiers Up Mountain on Tyrolean Frontier and After Days of Heroism Shares in Bayonet Charge, Which Results in Austrians Being Driven Back.

Maria Abbriani, a dark eyed Italian beauty from a mountain village along the Tyrolean frontier, is the "Joan of Arc" of the Austro-Italian war.

King Victor Emmanuel has awarded her a decoration for her bravery in leading a bersaglieri company in a bayonet attack on the Trentino village of Nori under heavy artillery fire.

With the decoration went a personal telegram of congratulation from the king at his headquarters at the battle front.

The war office at Rome at the same time made public an official dispatch detailing the girl's heroic acts.

Maria lived with her father, an aged Italian, in the Trentino village under Austrian rule. With other Italian residents, she ran out, says the dispatch, to welcome the king's troops when they entered Nori from the south.

Austrians batteries opened fire on the Italians at the outskirts of the village. Maria hurried to the Italian commander, begged permission to be allowed to carry a gun and show the way to reach where the Austrians were hidden.

Her request was granted and one of the soldiers gave her a plumed bersaglieri hat.

For eight hours she was in the thick of the fighting, piloting Italian troops through the streets of the village and up the mountain paths to flank attacks upon the Austrian trenches.

In the final attack, she actually led a squad of bersaglieri in a bayonet charge that swept the Austrians out of the village.

A full bersaglieri uniform was given to the girl as a souvenir of the victory and her bravery.

GREATEST WHEAT CROP EVER

Federal Report Indicates That Yield May Reach Billion Bushels.

The greatest wheat crop the country ever has known is in prospect for the coming harvest. The federal crop reporting board forecasts the crop at 950,000,000 bushels, which would exceed last year's record crop by 50,000,000 bushels. With continued good weather the crop may reach a billion bushels.

The bulk is winter wheat, planted last fall on the greatest acreage ever sown.

Oats planted last spring, also on the greatest area ever sown to that crop, exceeding last year's area by almost 2,000,000 acres, is forecasted at 1,288,000,000 bushels, which is more than last year or in 1913, but 130,000,000 bushels less than the record in 1912.

The barley crop, from present indications, will be second in point of size, with 197,000,000 bushels, which would be 26,000,000 bushels less than the 1912 record crop, but more than grown last year or in 1913.

TWO CROSSES FOR CANADIAN

Warneford, Who Wrecked Zeppelin, Gets Honor Legion as Well as V. C.

The young Canadian aviator, Sub-Lieutenant R. K. J. Warneford, who destroyed a German Zeppelin in a thrilling duel in the air near Ghent, is the first man to receive the highest honors for heroism at the hands of both the British and French.

King George V. bestowed on him the Victoria cross. On the recommendation of General Joffre, President Poincare has conferred on him the cross of the Legion of Honor.

For Memorial to Miss Barton. A movement has been started by the Legion of Loyal Women for a memorial to the late Miss Clara Barton, founder of the American National Red Cross to be erected in Washington.

WAR WIPES OUT BRITAIN'S ENTIRE PEACE ARMY.

The total of British casualties from the beginning of the war to May 31 was 288,039 men, Premier Asquith told the commons.

The list he gave was:

	Killed	Wounded	Missing
Officers	3,327	6,498	1,130
Other ranks	47,015	147,482	52,617

Total 50,342 153,980 53,747

Losses in the naval division and in the various small wars in Africa and the near east are not included.

In the first six months the British losses were 104,000. In the next four months they were 154,000.

In the last two months they have averaged about 2,000 men a day.

The army Great Britain just sent to the front numbered 170,000 men.

The entire British army at the opening of the war numbered 252,000 men. It is believed that few of these men are now left.

The total number of men sanctioned so far by parliament for the war is 3,200,000.

The naval losses due to foe are given as 6,400 officers and men.

Migratory Bird Law to Be Enforced.

Washington, D. C., August 10.

With the approach of the open season for shooting wild fowl, the United States department of agriculture is warning sportsmen that the federal regulations as amended October 1, 1914, will be strictly enforced. Some misunderstanding has arisen from the fact that the various state laws do not always conform to the federal regulations. This is regarded as unfortunate but in such cases the department must insist upon the observance of the federal regulations.

The department will consider any recommendations submitted in good faith for amendment of the regulations, but will hold no public hearings thereon, nor will it amend the regulations prior to October 15, 1915. It is the purpose of the department to conform the regulations to the wishes of the majority of sportsmen so far as it can be done and at the same time give wild fowl the necessary protection.

Federal regulations divide the United States into two zones. Zone No. 1, the breeding zone, includes the states of Oregon, Idaho, Colorado, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, and all states north of them. Zone No. 2, the wintering zone, includes all states south of those named.

Open seasons for migratory birds in 1915 under federal regulations for Minnesota, north Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin are as follows: Water fowl, rails, coots, gallinules, shore birds, black breasted and golden plover, jacksnipes and yellowlegs, September 7 to December 1. Woodcock, October 1 to December 1.

Insectivorous birds protected indefinitely. Band-tailed pigeons, cranes, swans, curlew, smaller shore birds, and wood ducks protected until September 1, 1918. Rails in Vermont and woodcock in Illinois also protected until 1918.

Shooting prohibited between sunset and sunrise; or at any time on sections of upper Mississippi and Missouri rivers after January 1, 1915.

If the chump who purloined the session laws of 1889 from the Union office will return it we will give him a wagon load of congressional records and patent office reports.

Tuesday was a great day for local politicians in the village. Owing to the moist atmosphere it was not a good day for harvesting and the farmers flocked to town and talked politics.

The Fifth district democratic congressional convention will be held at Little Falls, September 23. The convention will be composed of 110 delegates of which Mille Lacs county will have one.

Spencer Brook Correspondence: A cold rain storm from the east set in last Monday night and continued all day Tuesday. It caught some of the farmers with hay and grain in rather bad shape.

Chas. Keith was at work Monday with his surveying instruments establishing a grade for streets and sidewalks in the village. This is something that should have been done years ago.

Anderson's big saw mill at St. Cloud was destroyed by fire last Thursday night, caused by lightning striking the building. The fire was discernible from Princeton, thirty miles away. The mill will be rebuilt.

Mr. W. H. Townsend has built the best piece of sidewalk in the village opposite his lots on Main street. Other property owners should follow his example, as the greater portion of the sidewalks on Main street are positively dangerous to pedestrians.

Hon. Daniel Anderson of Cambridge announces himself as a candidate for treasurer of Isanti county. In his announcement he says, "while the prestige of a regular nomination is conceded, my appearance in the field will not depend upon such a contingency."

At the adjourned meeting of the shareholders of the Princeton Potato Starch Co. Monday, the following board of directors was chosen: T. H. Caley, N. E. Jesmer, Frank Hense, R. C. Dunn and C. H. Rines. The officers of the company are T. H. Caley, president; N. E. Jesmer, vice president; Frank Hense, treasurer; and R. C. Dunn, secretary.

ORDINANCE NO. 91.

An ordinance to prevent the use of sidewalks and boulevards in the village of Princeton by vehicles.

The village council of the village of Princeton does ordain as follows:

Section 1. No person or persons shall ride or drive any automobile, motorcycle, bicycle, carriage, wagon, cart or dray or any other wheeled vehicle upon any sidewalk or boulevard in the village of Princeton.

Section 2. Any person or persons offending against any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars ($25.00), and in default of payment thereof shall be imprisoned in the jail of said village not exceeding thirty days.

Section 3. Ordinance number sixty-four (64) of said village is hereby repealed.

Section 4. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval and publication.

Approved and passed this fourth day of August, 1915.

Signed: H. Newbert.

Attest: Acting President.

Job Printing and Job Printing

THERE are two kinds of Job Printing—that which is neat and artistic and that which possesses neither of these qualities. The Princeton Union makes it a point to turn out none but the former kind, and the Union finds this easy because it has the type, machinery and skilled labor with which to accomplish it.

Nothing Looks Worse Than Botched Job Printing.

It is a drawback to the business of a merchant or anyone else who uses it. Botched Job Printing suggests loose methods. Then why not use the kind printed by the Union? It costs you no more and gives the public a good impression of your business. The Princeton Union is prepared to execute every description of at short notice and nominal prices. If you are in need of letterheads, noteheads, billheads, statements, cards, posters, programs, wedding invitations or any other work in the printing line, an order for the same placed with the Union will insure its being produced in an attractive and up-to-date style.

Commercial and Fancy Printing
